Still waiting for a mouse to make the antibody you need?

Focus on efficiency

HuCAL® custom monoclonals offer you so much more!

- Purified monoclonals ready for your assay in just 8 weeks
- Guided selections for exquisite specificity
- Anti-idiotypic and anti-drug antibodies for clinical monitoring
- Fully human antibodies for use as diagnostic controls or callibrators
- Choice of antibody formats: Fab, bivalent Fab, IgG1, IgG4, IgM, IgA
- Antibodies designed and labeled to meet your exact needs
- Fully in vitro technology - we do not harm animals

Why wait any longer?

now in its second year!

Molecular Oncology highlights new discoveries, approaches, and technical developments in basic, clinical, and discovery-driven translational research with focus on the application of “omic” technologies to cancer.

The Journal publishes reviews, original articles, technical notes, editorials, commentaries, news & views, science policy issues, and letters to the editor.

Molecular Oncology is supported by a high quality editorial board, setting the standard for the journal.

[JOHN R. ENGEN, PH.D.]

LOOKS FOR PARTNERSHIPS, SO OTHERS CAN FIND A CURE.

For Dr. John Engen, collaboration is key. As an Associate Professor at Northeastern University, he works with his colleagues in the Department of Chemistry & Chemical Biology and the Barnett Institute to study disease-related proteins. His ultimate goal is to share this information with drug developers, so they can create treatments for HIV and cancer. Working with Waters as a partner, he uses a range of Waters instruments, including the nanoACQUITY UPLC,[®] Synapt HDMS,[™] and a customized LC instrument developed with Waters. As Dr. Engen will tell you, the path to a cure runs through partnership.

HOW BIG WILL YOUR IMPACT BE?
